Informed Consent

Acupuncture is a technique in which sterile, stainless steel, disposable needles are inserted into specific points on the body to cause a desired healing effect via regulating the flow of Chi (vital energy) in the body. Acupuncture points have been mapped out by Chinese over 3,000 years ago. Techniques may include manual stimulation of the needles, electro-acupuncture, cupping, and moxibustion. The benefits of acupuncture may include alleviation of pain or other symptoms, an overall sense of well being, improved sleep, and increased energy level. Risks may include feeling weak, nauseated, faint, infection or bruising at the site of the needle insertion, and worsening of symptoms occasionally.

Moxibustion is a heat treatment using the herb mugwort placed near the body. There is possible risk of burning due to fallen ashes. There is also possible risk of burn due to the use of heat lamps, although this is very rare.

With this knowledge, I voluntarily consent to have acupuncture treatments.
